High-street makeover

Per Una is set to work its magic on Marks & Spencer again, this time with a new make-up range. We're smearing on Cream Cheek Colour, £7, for a healthy glow, and getting our toes sandal-ready with these pretty nail polishes.

Bang on

Fringes are so now. But fork out a fortune for a haircut every three weeks? No need, says Jason Stanton, creative director at Michaeljohn. Pay less bucks for your bangs with Jason's DIY trimming tips...

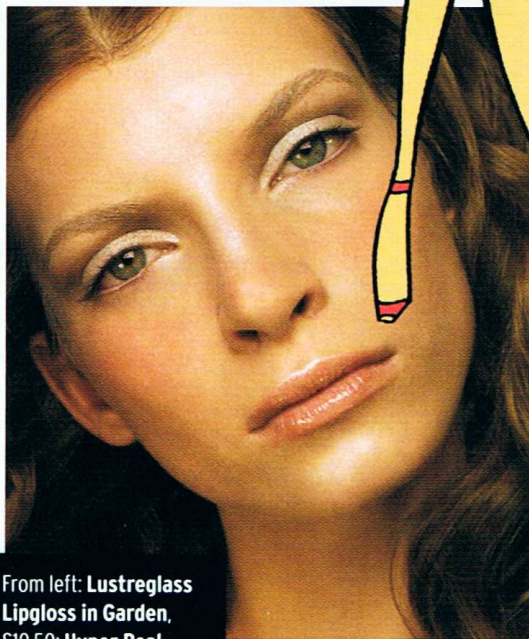

- 1 Start with dry hair, as wet locks will trick you into cutting your fringe too short, and give a harder finish.
- 2 Avoid cutting too far across (very dated and childlike). Section off any hair past the outer edges of your eyebrows and clip it safely out of the way.
- 3 Take some sharp hairdressing scissors (Boots Salon Performance Hairdressing Scissors, £7.10, are ideal) and, resting your hand against the bridge of your nose, cut into your fringe, not across it. Don't be tempted to pull the strands as you cut.
- 4 Using the same technique, chip into your fringe, moving across your face. Keep cuts small. Trim a little more if you want a shorter look.

SPRING SHEEN

We all want a spring glow, but overzealous bronzing can leave us looking less radiant, more Ronseal. Fortunately, this season's look, as seen at Sophia Kokosalaki (right), has the gleam without the carrot effect. Apply a base of luminous foundation, smudge white crayon over lids and dab highlighter down your nose and across your forehead and chin. Rub apricot crème blush on the apples of your cheeks and finish with a slick of gold-flecked lippgloss.
